Gilead voters raise $93,000 in just one hour

Gilead Town Meeting, last Saturday night, required just one hour to allocate a total of $93,000, to be raised by taxation. The largest amounts raised were for school expenses—a total of $56,800.

Only the school articles generated any opposition, and that only taken. The votes on the two articles concerning the costs of the regional vocational budget passed, 23-1 and 22-1.

Cynthia Mason was elected moderator of the meeting.

In other elections, Mildred McLain was re-elected clerk, Beverly Corriveau was elected tax collector, Fernand Corriveau Sr., Robert Taylor and Daniel Barnes were re-elected first, second and third selectmen respectively, Lynsey Chapman was re-elected treasurer, Gladys Taylor was elected to a three-year term

Woodstock town meeting next Monday, March 30

The Town of Woodstock will hold its annual town meeting next Monday, March 30, beginning at 7 p.m., in the school gymnasium.

Among the articles expected to provoke discussion are the following:

Article 2 asks voters if the town manager shall be given the authority to set salaries for town employees and appointed officials. Previously last power rested with the voters.

Article 8 asks voters if they will accept the land and building that make up the present Woodstock Elementary School complex, and Article 10 asks if voters will appropriate $10,000 to develop the area into a town office complex.

Articles 16 and 17 are expected to get close scrutiny as they deal with salaries and town office expenses. There has been discussion in town that the administrative assistant was hired, and paid, without authority from town meeting, and that the selectmen signed

Bethel Inn condos get public hearing tonight at Telstar

The public will get a chance tonight (Wednesday) to comment on the plans for building 40 townhouse condominiums at the Bethel Inn. The Planning Board will convene the public hearing at 7 p.m., in the Telstar lecture hall.

The planned condominiums, at prices pegged above $100,000, are part of a general expansion at the Inn, including enlarging the present nine-hole golf course to an 18-hole course.

While clearing of trees on the land to be developed has been taking place the past few months, any earth-moving work awaits approval of permit applications by the state Department of Environmental Protection, according to Inn officials. Last week, the Board of Selectmen gave conditional approval to a sewer hook-up for the project. The condition imposed by the selectmen—and agreed to by Inn officials—is that the Inn first make improvements to 750 feet of existing sewer line along Broad Street. The cost of the improvements was estimated at $30,000.

Much of the discussion at tonight's public hearing will likely focus on the access road to the condo development. The condominiums are designed to be located behind the NFL property, thus leaving clear the view of the mountains from Broad Street and from the houses on Broad Street. Access is planned from a road to be cut through the property of Ray and Anne Moran.

Some Broad Street residents object to the fact that an old barn on the Moran property will have to be demolished to make room for the access road, while others object to the fact that there will be vehicular traffic in back of some state-ly houses.

Bethel Inn owner Dick Raso said a number of alternative access road plans were considered—from cutting across the golf course from the Songo Pond

Upton votes for new town truck

Annual Town Meeting in Upton began at 7 p.m., March 19, when Town Clerk Rose Scott lowered the gavel and read the introduction to the town warrant. She passed ballots to each voter, with assistance from selectman Mike Bergeson. Steve Wight was elected moderator by a large majority. Ballots were again passed out and Pat Lewis was nominated and elected as town clerk.

Articles 16 and 17 are expected to get close scrutiny as they deal with salaries and town office expenses. There has been discussion in town that the administrative assistant was hired, and paid, without authority from town meeting, and that the selectmen signed

Opinions

Ponds shouldn't be preserve of rich

When Woodstock voters assemble in town meeting next week, one of the questions they will be asked is whether or not the town should increase the shoreline frontage and lot size in the shoreland zoning ordinance. It is proposed that the minimum lot size requirements be doubled—to 100-foot frontage and one acre.

Proponents of the measure argue that there is heavy developmental pressure on the town's ponds and a great risk that the ponds will become polluted. Cutting down on the number of lots that can be placed around a pond will cut down on development and on pollution.

However, it will also cut down on the average person's chances of ever having a lakefront camp. If the zoning requirements are increased as suggested, only very rich people will be able to afford lakefront lots.

While the intent of the article—to reduce pollution in the lakes—is admirable, the means of achieving it is elitist. Woodstock's ponds are one of the town's most precious natural resources. They should be maintained as something precious, but they should also be maintained as a resource for as much of the town as possible—not just for wealthy people from out-of-state.

With this in mind, it behooves the town—and other towns with lakefront property—to obtain lakefront property or lakefront privileges for town residents. When all the lakefront is developed, the lakes will effectively belong to only a privileged few. bfw

What we celebrate on the Constitution's bicentennial

[Throughout this year, the nation will be celebrating the Bicentennial of the Constitution. But why do we celebrate it? Why is the Constitution important? How does it distinguish our country from the other nations of the world? Douglas A. Jeffrey, Director of Scholarship at the Claremont Institute for the Study of Statesmanship and Political Philosophy, explores these questions as he discusses what it means to have a constitution.]

This year we Americans will celebrate the bicentennial of our constitution. The occasion provides us with a special opportunity to recall what unites us as a people; what the noblest among us have fought and died to protect—from Yorktown to Gettysburg, and from the Coral Sea to the Mekong Delta; and what others will be called on to defend similarly in years to come.

A constitution is a way of life. Traditionally it was something unwritten: if you wanted to know a people's constitution, you simply looked at how they lived. But in America—for the first time—a constitution became the Constitution. That it was written symbolized its value as fundamental law. As such it set limits to what the government could do in a new and significant way. And in America, where the government is of the people, to limit government is to limit ourselves.

To say that what unites us as a people is an acknowledgement of our own limitations, is to say that what unites us is a common agreement on what is politically and morally right. This agreement was born with the pledge of dedication to certain principles in 1786.

The principles of political and moral right, set forth in the Declaration of Independence, are therein held to be right by nature, or to be right always and everywhere. Only if there is that sort of standard of justice would it be proper for us to have a written constitution, or a fundamental and restrictive law.

That America's great adversary in modern times is the Soviet Union, reflects the fact that communist ideology explicitly and absolutely denies what is most essential to American constitutionalism. Marxist doctrine's denial of God's existence is but one facet of its denial that there is any unchanging law—divine or natural—which restricts what a man or a people can do at any given time. Rather than being guided by an absolute standard, communists look to a future ideal which justifies for them the treatment by some human beings of other human beings as if those others were beasts. While the Marxists speak in terms of a master class rather than (as did the Nazis) in terms of a master race, Marxists and Nazis are essentially similar: both have denied a higher law which governs all men equally.

What constitutes us as a people, what so many Americans have given their lives defending, and what we should commemorate not only this year, but each and every year, is exactly what distinguishes us so radically from Communist and Nazi tyrannies. It is not simply that we are a democracy. After all, just as a free individual can choose to become a drug merchant or a drug addict, so can a democratic majority choose, unjustly, to have slaves or to enslave themselves. No, what we truly celebrate is that we were constituted to be a people enlightened by a knowledge of what is politically and morally just.

We celebrate a living Constitution—no less beautiful or just than it was 200 years ago—which demands that we remain a self-governing people, who are in turn governed by a higher law. We celebrate that we are constituted as a people whose fulfillment of our patriotic duty—whether at peace or at war—has a uniquely religious character. We celebrate that we are a people who can, if we are true to the example set by Americans who have gone before us in our nation's "finest hours," honestly speak of pledging our sacred honor, to the support of one another and to the support of our institutions and our laws.

There is no fitting time than ours for the reflection on our heritage which the current Bicentennial calls forth. Perhaps through such reflection we might clear our minds, bridge the divisions that exist among us, and re-dedicate ourselves as a people aware of the nature of our birthright, which is, as Lincoln called it in remarks to the 166th Ohio Regiment in 1864, "an inestimable jewel."

Jaws of Life training held

A training session on Extrication Procedures and the Use of Jaws of Life tools was held on Saturday at the Bethel Town Garage, sponsored by the SAD #44 Adult and Community Education program. The instructor for the session was Ham Robbins III of Readfield, a specialist in extrication, who is with the office of Emergency Medical Services in Augusta. The training was provided by the local Adult and Community Education program in response to a request from Bethel Fire Chief Bob Davis, and was attended by 11 members of the Bethel Fire Department and four members of the BEARS. Gaudreux' Garage of Bethel provided a vehicle for use in the course.

The Bethel Fire Department, along with the Greenwood Fire Department, as well as employees of Gould Academy, Bethel Furniture Stock, Cullinan Oil Company, and the towns of Rumford and South Paris, is participating in another Adult and Community Education training opportunity in Hazardous Materials Response. The class, with an enrollment of 40 students, is being taught by Sherm Leahy. The program was arranged in cooperation with the Fire Sciences program at Southern Maine Vocational and Technical Institute, South Portland.

A note from the publisher

Flying into Portland last Saturday afternoon, after a week in sunny Florida, my wife Mary and I gasped at the sight of fields of snow. And so did the other passengers on the plane, as we broke through the clouds at low altitude and suddenly saw all the white stuff on the ground.

A man sitting somewhere behind us said, "Well, I guess we must like it or we wouldn't live here."

That seemed to about sum up the sentiments of most of us on the plane, who were returning from vacations in warmer climates. Sure, it's cold here, and you need winter clothes, and insulated houses, and boots to either keep snow or mud out, and you have to be able to drive in just about every condition. But, in Florida the temperature varies only from warm to hot, and the sameness is boring.

While we were down there visiting my folks—in Fort Lauderdale—I ran into a man from Dover, N.H. He said he winters down there because his wife likes it, but he has to go back to New Hampshire every few weeks to keep his perspective and sanity.

Life in the fast lane along Florida's "Gold Coast" is just that. Many of the yachts are as big as my house, and you don't see many sub-compact cars. The standard is big, and brassy—from cars to restaurants to housing.

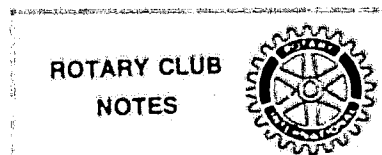

Which is not to say we didn't enjoy being down there for a week. We loved it: got lots of sun and swimming in (in fact, more swimming than we did all last summer up here), caught up on what the rest of the family is up to, and tried foods we don't normally eat here, such as catfish and hushpuppies.

Maybe it's because there are no mountains in Florida—or even hills—that one gets the impression that everywhere is roads and cars as far as the eye can see. Mountains would break up the vista. With nothing but flatness, the eye can only see what's at eye level, which are automobiles. I haven't seen such traffic since I quit driving Rte. 128, in Massachusetts.

Adding to the traffic at this time of year were the legions of college students on spring break. Windows in many of the hotel and motel rooms were stacked decoratively with empty beer cans. But, for the most part, the collegians seemed to be enjoying the sun as much as the excitement of being off on their own.

Up the street from my folks' condominium is an empty hotel (gone bankrupt), where a Hollywood film crew was shooting a sequel to "Revenge of the Nerds," a very funny movie of a couple of seasons ago about the underside of life at a typical college. I did my best to get a part as an extra, but was told they were only hiring coeds and young jocks. A helpful production assistant told me I'd look younger if I let my hair grow down to my shoulders. That's the first time I was ever told I was too old for a job, but I'm sure it won't be the last.

My nephew went to the set the next day and was hired on the spot. If you go see the film—which is due in movie theaters this summer—look for him. He's the one—or, one of the ones—with hair down to his shoulders.

ROTARY CLUB NOTES

The Bethel Rotary Club held its breakfast meeting at 7:30 a.m. on March 24 at Martha's Restaurant.

Visiting Rotarians joining with the group on Tuesday were Ted Whittier and Frank Shurey of Oxford Hills, and Richard Shadett of Barre, Vt.

President Dave Preble talked about Rotary International Foundation scholarships and explained "workings" of this program. The selection of students for this program is being reviewed. He also talked about the Group Study Exchange of Spanish students. This project is in the final planning stages.

Rotary raffie had Bruce Powell came up with John Todd as this week's winner. John Head was the winner last week.

The program chairman was Jeff Parsons. He talked about the development and activities of the Outward Bound program beyond the local area. A group that was assembled in the Adirondack Mountain area was the source that highlighted the interaction of young people and the unusual situations that sometimes occur. Jeff's program was well enjoyed by fellow Rotarians and everyone came away with a better feeling and understanding of this well founded organization.

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:

I am writing to add my words of support to the sentiments expressed last week in Stan Howe's letter. The latest proposal for an access road to the planned Bethel Inn condos marks yet another physical change since the Broad Street Historic District was created in 1977. By my count it would be the third such change, the Chadbourne House and the Bethel Inn Conference Center being the others.

I have no quarrel with these two structures through the architecture of the latter scarcely harmonizes with anything else on the street. It's worth pointing out, however, that already in ten years two major changes have been made to the area whose designation as a historic district had lulled many into a false belief that at least this part of town was safe from radical alteration. Now a third change is being proposed. I wonder who's waiting in the wings with another "minor" (?) alteration.

I find the present Bethel Inn proposal offensive for two reasons. First it requires the demolition of a building in the historic district, thus establishing a precedent that frankly "scars the hell out of me." Even more serious, I think, is the creating of yet another traffic hazard on one of Bethel's busiest streets. If you don't know what I'm talking about, go up to the head of Broad Street and see how Ray Moran's drive is directly opposite Paradise Road. That driveway I am told is the site of the proposed access road to 40 (?) condos.

Since I retired to my old home in Bethel last summer, I have attended two public hearings dealing with parking and traffic problems on Broad Street. Despite conflicting opinions, there are several points on which everyone agreed: that Broad Street has a large amount of traffic which is steadily growing; that the present parking situation is bad and can be dangerous, especially at the Paradise end where the pavement narrows; that the problem is compounded by reckless drivers who sometimes use Broad and Paradise Streets as a kind of "drag strip;" and that the corner of Broad and Mason Streets is potentially dangerous.

Various possible ways to improve matters have been discussed, but to the best of my knowledge the Selectmen have made no final decision. And now along comes a proposal which will create yet another traffic hazard on an already crowded street, especially in the summer when conferences make the flow of traffic to the NTL Center substantially heavier.

For all of the reasons cited above, I urge citizens to oppose the proposal for the new access road which will be discussed at the public hearing scheduled for Wednesday, March 25, in the lecture hall at Telstar beginning at 7 p.m.

Edward H. Hastings
Broad Street

To the Editor:

As so often happens, those who believe in common goals and issues often find that there are disagreements among the group as to the definition and meaning of those goals and issues.

In this case the disagreement is between the Bethel Inn and Dr. Stanley Howe and his supporters as to whether or not the Bethel Inn's proposal to connect a road on Broad St. at the site of Ray Moran's barn further preserves and protects the classic character of Bethel or not.

Surely, Dr. Howe must agree that Mr. Rasor's efforts in not only preserving the Bethel Inn property but transposing it from what might have become a community eyesore into what is one of the finer New England Inns is in keeping with the character of the historic district.

The Bethel Inn's addition of its conference center which sits on the edge of the historic district and adjacent to Dr. Howe's residence certainly demonstrates the Bethel Inn's commitment to preserving and protecting not only the historic district but the town as a whole.

I, like Dr. Howe and the Bethel Inn believe that the character of the Bethel community should be preserved. However, that is not the issue in this case.

The issue is what use should be made in the future of Mr. Moran's barn's property? We all foolishly assume that the property will remain as is forever. Although the property is in the historic district, which in turn is listed on the National Register of Historic Places, that designation merely limits which structural alterations can be done to the property. It does not limit its use.

Although no use is the best use of the barn property, none of us can guarantee that in the future. Therefore, one of the least obtuse uses of the property would be a road. It's a much better use than a disco, motorcycle repair shop, second hand store or bottle recycling plant. If the road is a traffic hazard, that problem can be resolved. Therefore, the only way to assure a known future use of the property is to allow the Bethel Inn to construct a road which is in keeping with the character of the district rather than chance some unknown future use such as a pizza hut.

To the Editor:

Last week's letter from Dr. Howe is right on target regarding the need to preserve and protect the "Classic New England Village" character of the Bethel community.

It is what sets us apart from the North Conway, Freeports and other communities that have lost their character. And it is what has brought me and our thousands of guests to Bethel in the first place.

Preserving the character of Bethel and Bethel's historic Broad Street is what made us build our Conference Center in a design consistent with our other buildings, including a high stone fireplace and the familiar Bethel Inn clapboard construction. A design comfortable enough for Dr. Howe to live next door to and use for meetings with his fellow historians.

Preserving the character of Bethel is what led us to the decision to build our new Townhouses out of sight of Broad Street, protecting the Western mountain view of visitors walking through the Broad Street area as well as the view of every one of our Broad Street neighbors.

Preserving Bethel's character is why the look of the Townhouses will be so consistent with our existing buildings, with clapboard construction, bay windows and styling which will fit the community, even though they cannot be seen from Broad Street.

And preserving Bethel's character means preserving the Bethel Inn and its lovely buildings on Broad Street by staying competitive, with more rooms to rent and an 18-hole golf course.

After all, it was just eight years ago that the Inn closed forever because it was not competitive and was going the way of Poland Spring House, Wentworth By-The-Sea and dozens of other classic New England resorts.

Those of us in the business of attracting vacationers to Bethel must constantly balance the necessity of improving our product with the necessity of preserving what makes our product attractive in the first place.

After nine months of exploration, negotiation and the expenditure of thousands of dollars, the best of six possible alternatives for an access driveway has been identified. We simply cannot afford to ask our guests to drive up to three-quarters of a mile from the Main Inn—where they check in—to their accommodations. Nor can we afford the onerous restrictions on land use and financial commitments of over a half-million dollars required to secure alternative access.

If the responsible parties involved find that the access we propose creates a traffic hazard, we will work together to alleviate that problem.

But to characterize the extension of an existing Broad Street driveway and removal of a barn, which now serves no purpose other than blocking the view of three homes, as a "substantial intrusion" (which) endangers the survival of the entire historic district," is just silly.

As a member of the Historical Society, a resident of Broad Street and owner of a local business, I understand the importance of preserving Bethel's character, and I will match my investment in doing so with anyone's.

But, please Dr. Howe, let's not cry "wolf" when the wolf, thankfully, is still happily living in North Conway.

Dick Rasor, Proprietor
The Bethel Inn & Country Club

To the Editor:

I would like to thank everyone for their support and help over the past eleven years as town clerk, tax collector and treasurer for the Town of Woodstock.

It is with my deepest regret that I cannot continue to serve you, but I feel I have no other choice but to get done at this time. Not because I couldn't find a babysitter or I didn't want to move to an office, but because of time to time, wages, and no benefits.

They wanted a smooth transition! How do you get a smooth transition when you pull the rug out from under all of your employees who have done their best for the town over the years?

A lot of the proposals that were presented to the townspeople with this new form of government just don't seem to be coming through the way they were presented to us.

Pamela R. House

P.S. I keep reading about all these fees the town's going to make from my job. I hope they don't get too disappointed; they never made me a millionaire!

To the Editor:

Non-resident property owners in the Bethel and surrounding areas don't enjoy a uniformly favorable reputation as evidenced by several "Letters to the Editor" on that subject over recent months.

Let there be additional grist for this mill I'd like an opportunity to clarify a statement printed in the latest Newry town report. The report lists myself as a non-resident delinquent for property taxes. The facts are that I sold the property in question to a resident in mid 1986 and satisfied my prorated portion of the property tax at the time of the closing.

Apparently the Tax Office does not stay current with such transactions and as far as I've been able to determine, they did not issue a tax bill to the current owner of the property or to me.

I am a native of the Bethel area, having owned several pieces of property over the years, both as a resident and a non-resident, and I have never failed to pay my taxes fully and on time.

Thank you for the opportunity to set the record straight.

To the Editor:

Thank you Mrs. Louise Bryant Foster Loring for your friendly criticism in last week's paper. We all make mistakes. For example, please re-read the following paragraph. "The History of Woodstock is hard to find. It exists largely in library collections. Even in Woodstock the only copy in the Bryant Pond public library is not circulated." It does not say in the town.

We enjoy visitors at our historical meetings. Why don't you join us? We need historians.

To the Editor:

The Land Use Review Committee delivered the results of its many hours of work to the [Bethel] Planning Board on this date [March 18]. The Ordinance will be reviewed by the Planning Board, legal counsel, the Selectmen, and then presented to the public at public hearings before being voted on at the June 1987 Town Meeting.

The Committee was charged to address multi-unit (3 or more), commercial, and industrial developments. The method used was to identify problems which are pertinent to Bethel and attempt to work out solutions for these problems by the development of regulations. These regulations should give both developers and Planning Boards the necessary tools to prepare and review any future site plans for land use.

The importance of presenting this Ordinance to the voters at the June 1987 Town Meeting cannot be stressed enough. In our deliberations and discussions with people it became apparent that controlled growth and development are essential to the future of Bethel.

Therefore, we are most hopeful that this Ordinance will receive the prompt attention of the Planning Board members, Selectmen and legal advisors so that it will be ready for the voters in June 1987.

The committee wishes to thank all of those who assisted us in preparing this document in the limited time available.

To the Editor:

On a recent weekday morning, before leaving for work, I strolled through town with my faithful dog. It was during this walk that we were accosted seven times by various members of Bethel's Canine Community.

Each dog, unleashed and without apparent owner supervision, was indiscriminately dropping their respective digested meal from a day earlier.

These accumulated specimens on public streets and private property are creating a serious health hazard and nuisance. But just as serious, and more a nuisance, is the intimidating presence of an unleashed dog, often in pairs or packs, running our streets. While we rise to meet them, I can imagine the fear that strikes the respected elderly and impressionable children.

It should be the responsibility of every dog owner to be aware of their dog's whereabouts and behavior. Simply to open a door to let their pet out is not enough.

If the animal control officer wishes to make a real effort to alleviate this problem, she should drive our streets between 6:30 and 8:30 a.m. every day. I and other concerned citizens would be willing to assist in this roundup.

Road, to cutting across from Mill Hill, to going completely around the NTL property and thence into the project.

Mr. Raser said he did not like the idea of having vehicles cutting across the golf course (and the cross country ski trails) and therefore had attempted to work out an agreement with NTL officials for permission to skirt that property, but the negotiations did not yield an agreement.

The only remaining alternatives, he said, are: direct access from Paradise Road, which would require a bridge spanning Sanding Brook, access through The Maples building next to The Inn, or access through the Moran property.

Bridging Sanding Brook might cause water problems, Inn officials believe, while going through The Maples with the access road would cause traffic in back of five Broad Street residences. Running the access road through the Moran property would mean having traffic in back of just two homes: Moran's and Seashore's.

The issues at this public hearing are not unlike the issues at the public hearing held on the Eden Ridge subdivision. Once again neighbors are objecting to the additional traffic that will result from the access to the project. In this case, however, the neighbors seem split on the question, with some opposed and some supportive of the plan.

a lease on a temporary town office without the authority from town meeting. Article 34 asks voters if the town should double the frontage and minimum lot size requirement for lakefront lots, to 200-foot frontage and one-acre minimum lot size.

Article 37 asks voters if the town should consider using the newly acquired stump dump as a septic disposal site. In the town election, former Selectman Elhel Davis has said she would be willing to fill the last remaining year of Selectman Clifford York's term. Mr. York is resigning from the board because of lack of time to devote to the office.

Selectman Gary Wing said he is "undecided" whether or not to seek re-election to the board. His term is expiring. He complained that he has been the target of "unwarranted accusations" by some townspeople because of the board's handling of the transition in government to a town manager form of government. Margaret Hand has declared her intention to seek the school board seat presently held by Sheryl Wilbur, who is not seeking re-election.

He also introduced Devaine Craig, superintendent of SAD #44, who was there in a Boy Scout uniform as he had a meeting of Eagle Scouts later in the evening. Selectman Richard LeComte requested that the articles pertaining to school affairs be taken care of at that time so Mr. Craig would be able to leave early. On motion, it was voted and these articles were explained and accepted.

After Mr. Craig's departure, the town proceeded to elect the following officers: selectman (for three years), Conale Gagnon; tax collector and treasurer, Pat Lewis; road commissioner, Norman Mercier (who defeated Mike Lewis, 23-16); school committee member (three years), Al Gagnon; school committee member (two years), Pat Lewis.

The town voted the increase of all salaries as recommended. Except for the County Soil and Water Conservation District, all monies were raised as recommended. That one was rejected, by a 15-14 stand-up vote.

The article concerning the purchase of a 4-wheel-drive vehicle brought much on the local school committee and Harry Taylor was re-elected road commissioner.

Voters appropriated $3,000 for current expenses; $5,500 for insurance; $5,500 for town officers' salaries; $11,131 for the yearly payment on the loader and backhoe; $2,500 for care and maintenance of the municipal building; $10,500 for roads; $1,261 for service from the Bethel Ambulance Service.

Voters declined to allocate funds requested by the following: Maine's Consumer Action Organization, Maine Publicity Bureau, Bethel Area Chamber of Commerce, Western Area Agency on Aging, and Oxford County Soil and Water Conservation District.

The state auditor, in his report in the town's annual report, made the following recommendation:

"We recommend that the Town maintain property and equipment records. These records should include at actual cost, or historical cost if actual cost is not determinable, all capital equipment items, land, buildings and additions. In addition, a designated Town official should perform periodic inventory checks to ascertain that the items are properly accounted for and adequately safeguarded."

discussion. It was moved to delete "purchase a 4-ton" from the article, but this motion was defeated. Another motion was to change that to "4 or 4-ton," leaving in the word "purchase." This motion passed, and with it the article, which authorizes the selectmen to solicit bids and purchase a truck.

About 40 people attended the meeting. The mood was mostly upbeat, with some levity and laughter. The meeting finished at 9 p.m.

Gary Hill, district deputy of South Paris, came in early during the proceedings and was a visitor throughout. Two new voters were Arthur and Pat Couture.

Selectman LeComte said, based on the money allocated by voters, the tax rate would likely drop.

Gilead

By LOUISE LORING

While best remembered for its strong gale like winds and kite flying, this past week of March, has subjected us to a variety of weather, including snow squalls, dingy skies and snowbanks, periods of misty rain and a general overall greyness. Outside the birds have been feeding constantly, and the grey squirrels continue to raise havoc at the feeders.

Inside, the fire gives us a comforting warmth, and at this very moment little green tomato plants in their small plastic greenhouses, have poked up their tiny heads, and press towards the light—as they repose upon the window sills.

The mud puddles in the dooryard grow deeper—and just somewhere I know—just over that eastern horizon—sunshine waits to break through the pour its rays to the earth—which will soon awake with its prodding—and make all our hearts sing!!

So hang in there—we're almost to the top of the mountain. Peace everyone—

There were many reasons to rejoice in this small community this past week. The wearing of the green on Tuesday last was celebrated by many, and the Gilead store and diner has re-opened and is under new management. Ken Newell and son, "Big Ed" as the diner is now called, has been in full operation, and the truckers and townspeople are once again pleased. To look out and see the "Star" is comforting, and the home cooked food is of superb quality. Home made biscuits, pies and freshly made doughnuts are big attractions, and the rest of the cuisine, is excellent.

Leo and Anna Belanger are enjoying a vacation in Hawaii, with relatives, and are soon due back with many "Alohas" and sun tans to sport as usual. Lillian Moulton is caring for Cy Cole while his housekeeper is on vacation. Cy is holding his own and enjoys company as usual.

Fernand and Beverly Corriveau entertained their son and wife last Tuesday evening. It was Holly's birthday and a family celebration was in order.

Linda Smith and little daughter were around delivering the Girl Scout cookies, which were absolutely delicious as always.

Donna Peters and Marge Whiting of Berlin, N.H., were in town one day last week calling upon friends.

Last Saturday my husband and I went down the Bog Road to purchase some maple syrup from Richard Duplessis. Just a beautiful amber color and so nicely packaged. Good luck to Richard and

WEST BETHEL Children's Center

The children's center spent another busy week experiencing the five senses. They played blind man's bluff which involved the sense of touch to identify objects. They played with silly putty—a homemade concoction of liquid starch and glue. Snakes were made from paper plates and houses out of big boxes.

Pretty and petite five year old Jessica Mathias has been star of the week. Jessica lives in Bethel with her family.

The center has a new volunteer. He is 15 year old Jason Haywood. Jason will be spending one morning a week with the children in conjunction with his studies at Telstar.

Thank you, volunteers Bonnie Gammon, Shelly Palmer, Kathy Hebert, and Kathy Sweetser.

TEACHERS DONATE TO SKIERS

John Woodbury, president of the Telstar Educators Association, last week made a donation to the five Telstar members of the Maine Cross Country Ski Team, to help defray costs of their trip to the Eastern High School Championships, held in Craftsbury Center, Vt., last weekend. The Maine Team showed marked improvement this year, placing 4th overall.

EBS/CPS Kids' World

By LAURIE BERGERON

Congratulations to these super kids this week!!

To Joel Riley, 4th grade student of Mrs. Cordeau, who whipped through all four math timed tests of 100 facts each in four weeks!

To Keith Chadbourne, who is the most recent graduate in math facts of sums 7-10 in Miss Merrill's 3rd grade.

To Miranda Cobb, who finished reading Little Dog Laughed in Mrs. Otero's 1st grade. Miranda's efforts rewarded her, as she answered every question on her level test correctly.

To all of Mrs. Seames' second grade students who each got 100 on their spelling tests again this week!

Nice going kids...

Mrs. Baldwin's fourth grade students have finished presenting their science projects in class. Mrs. Baldwin will have their projects displayed for at least two more weeks, and welcomes visitor observation. The best time to visit is lunch time or in the p.m. The students love to talk about their projects.

Telstar Regional High School students of "RADA" (Rebels Against Drug Abuse) visited grade 5. The well organized presentation, led by Rodney Abbott and Becky Hardy benefited the 5th graders with a movie and discussion groups on related topics.

Mr. McCusky's first grade completed a unit called "Water and Ice." Each child estimated the length of time for a large block of ice to melt completely. Estimates ranged from 10 minutes to 220 hours! It melted in 3 hours 42 minutes and the closest guess was 3 hours.

Mrs. Wight's 3rd grade students have toured the Casco Bank and the Bethel Savings Bank in conjunction with their studies on a banking unit. Special thanks to Garrett Bonenna for his help in this study with Leah Bonenna, Andy Dennis, Alex Gillies, Angela Levesque, Nathan McVey, and Cindy Wheeler.

Mrs. Coolidge's 2nd grade welcomed a new student last week! They're pleased to David Mayberry with them.

On St. Patrick's Day Mrs. Coolidge's class took an especially fun field trip to the Grahams' house on Paradise. The children were able to see, touch and feed their animals. Some even had the honor of cleaning a horse's stall!! It was a special treat to see the baby lamb. They send special thanks to Kate's Mom and Dad, for a great time.

EBS students are enjoying 2 wonderful new discs on the computer—Mapdown Parade and Reader Rabbit. They are exciting as well as teaching aids!

Thought for the Day: Change

When winter changes into spring The birds return to sing And trees begin to bud And then our hearts will bud too.

The change from children to young men To children to young men.

Calvary Congregational Church

Pastor Donald Grover's message last Sunday was "Overthrown by Sin." 1 Cor. 15:54-55, Meditation: Joshua 1:9

"Be not afraid, for the Lord Thy God is with thee." The choir sang "It's Just Like His Great Love." Missionary moments: a letter was shared from the Trinitarian Bible Society.

On March 29 is a fellowship supper with Wycliffe Bible Translator representative, Francis Hayden, with a film telling one of the most remarkable stories in recent Christian history, "The Good Seed." On Easter Sunday, President and Mrs. Ken Roberts of New Brunswick Bible Institute will be present for the service.

The marks of a strong church are wet eyes, bent knees, and a broken heart. We will never be powerful until we let God be God and jealously guard His honor.

Rick Charette to appear at two SAD #44 schools

Rick Charette, well-known children's songwriter, is scheduled to appear at both Andover and Woodstock elementary schools, on Wednesday, April 1.

A 9 a.m. concert at the Andover Elementary School will kick off a busy day. Mr. Charette will then travel to the Woodstock Elementary School for a 1 p.m. performance and visits to the K-6 classrooms.

A special evening performance is also scheduled, for 7 p.m., at the Woodstock gym. This show is open to the public. Tickets for the event will be available at the door. Prices are $1 for adults and 50 cents for children.

Other artists who will be appearing at Woodstock Elementary School later in the spring are Paul Corrigan (poet), Children's Theater of Maine, John McDonald (storyteller), Mainely Education, and Clum Spencer (singer/storyteller).

Funds for the above programs were raised by the Walk-a-Thon held last September, coordinated by Bernice Cadigan, resource room teacher.

West Greenwood

By CAROLYN COLBY

Edith Deegan, South Woodstock, had supper and spent the evening with Irene Wilson on Saturday.

Joyce Roy of Rumford stopped at Irene's on Tuesday.

Irene thanks that spring has nearly sprung; she has some starlings coming to her feeder.

Terry Wilson and baby, Brady David, came home from the hospital on Tuesday.

Grapevine has it that Doris Lord, formerly of Bethel, hasn't been feeling the best lately. Her address is 5806 North Round Lake Rd., Apopka, Fla. 32712.

A deluge of cards to let her know we are thinking of her would be nice.

Bob and Mona Love attended the County Council meeting at West Paris Tuesday evening.

THIS WEEK AT THE Moses Mason House

All members and friends of the Bethel Historical Society are reminded that the monthly meeting of the society will be held on Thursday, April 2, in the meeting room of the Dr. Moses Mason House beginning at 7:30 p.m. The program will focus on the Mill Hill section of Bethel Hill with Mary C. Keniston making a slide presentation on the history of this very historic area. Mrs. Keniston, who was born on Mill Hill and has lived there most of her life in the family home there, has done extensive research on the people and houses of the area. It was here that some of the first structures in Bethel were built and it was long a site for many industries. Fires and demolitions have taken their toll through the years changing the landscape considerably from the 19th century, but a number of photographs relating to the area have been found detailing mill structures and residences which have long since disappeared. Anyone interested in learning more of this area's history is urged to attend and is cordially invited to do so. Come share your memories, and the society continue to preserve the history of the town.

Society Director Stanley R. Howe and Curator of Collections Randall Bennett were in Lebanon, N.H., last week to pick up several boxes of books and other memorabilia relating to the White Mountains for the society's collection. The donor was Walter Woodman Wright, a society member and summer resident of Pars Hill. Among the donations by Mr. Wright were copies of "New Hampshire Profiles" 1931-1935 (many of them bound) and such books as New Hampshire Beautiful (1923), Among the Northern Hills (1895), Vacation Tramps in New England Highlands (1919), Mary Erskine, A Franconia Story (1850), Indian Head Its Debut and Legends (1937), Laconia or, Legends of the White Mountains and Merry Meeting Bay (1854), The Town at the End of the Road: A History of Waterville Valley (1963), and White Mountain Trails (1917). This gift greatly strengthens the society's White Mountain collection and is deeply appreciated. From Curator Randall Bennett the society has received Poems of the Magalloway (1879) by Granville P. Wilson, Dockery, Supreme Judicial Court, Oxford County (1853), Dedication Address of Hon. Ralph O. Brewster at the Unveiling of the Memorial to Hannibal Hamlin (1927), The Town Register 1905,

Mexico, Peru, & Hartford. The society has also acquired Researching the Old Houses, H. Temple Crittenden's The Maine Scenic Route, Jacques Downs' The Cities of the Saco. All of these publications are now available to researchers for use in the Society's Eva Bean Research Room.

An incident in 1840 demonstrates the intensity of political fervor in Bethel. William Henry Harrison, a Whig, was elected president of the United States that year and, as recorded by Leonard Bond Chapman, the Whigs of Bethel wished to give "their successful candidate a good send off." So, according to Chapman, "a party of young Whigs dragged an old cannon to the Common, intending a rousing salute." The rest of the story in Chapman's words is as follows: "Dr. Moses Mason, who lived directly opposite and being a true Democrat, objected to the proposed demonstration, arguing that the confusion would break the window glass in his house. Capt. John Harris, a dyed-in-the-wool Whig, happened along and learning of the trouble, he cast one glance at the offending windows and turning to the perplexed celebrators, shouted loudly, 'Seven-by-nine glass, let her go boys and I'll pay the bills.' A match was quickly applied and the old cannon spoke with no uncertain report. Capt. Harris, true to his word, paid dearly for the fun, as considerable glass was shattered in the good old doctor's building."

Apparently Dr. William B. Lapham, author of the history of Bethel, was hand-picked to include all the material he had gathered in his book. He wrote Leonard Bond Chapman on Dec. 2, 1891 the following letter: "I hardly know what to do. My book is getting beyond the size planned and as the price is fixed, of course what I add will be at my own expense. I need a hundred pages more than I have at my disposal to get in all the matter now at hand I have cut down all I dare to and still am crowded, as I have stated."

By COLISTA MORGAN

The important thing about the first weeks in March isn't the temperature but the sunlight, over 11 hours of it. It was on such a morning that I left home early for a walk on the crust. I thought by starting early I could go far before it began to melt but I found it different. The crust wasn't as hard as I wanted. I like to step right out with no thought of slumping. This morning I had to be cautious, so in a short time I had to turn back. However I noted many things. One was a blue jay, a brilliant blue against the snow. So I wondered about the function of color... I have read that color is there, in nature, a matter of wavelength in the light that we see. Dogs and cats see only black and white. The horse, cow and pig all lack color vision. Yet, day-active birds see color. Their eyes are more like the human eye. I wondered how this is known, but settled for what I read.

The snow had receded at the base of several trees and I saw just a bit of green.

I have heard said that we must earn spring. We have to work our way through the first two months of the year but by mid-March we have done enough penance. We have carried wood, shoveled snow, and faced the cold so now we are entitled to the later sunset and earlier sunrise.

On the crust by my side I picked up pine needles, slender and sleek, and an aspen leaf, flat and heart shaped. Holding them side by side I observed the difference between a deciduous and a coniferous tree leaf.

The mountains lay to my left, deep smudged against the winter sky.

A few leaves torn from a tree hopped bird-like ahead of me. At my feet a tawny dead beech leaf skidded about on its bent points like some demented crab.

As I went up the hill, the sun vanished behind the woods, and a sharp little wind reminded me it was still winter.

Maybe a perfect March day seldom endures but it brings promise to us. We are aware of spring's beginning. It was a rough winter and I thought I heard the hills breathe a sigh of relief, as they, too, looked to winter's break-up.

Dorothy Curtis has had a few callers this week. Mildred Williamson and Pearl Pitts from Norway; Mildred Bowman, Hebron; Mr. and Mrs. Fred Curtis, Kathy Curtis, Eva Felton, local.

On Wednesday I joined the T.T. Club for lunch in Norway then at Louvie Coffin's in West Paris for the afternoon.

Ann Holt, Bethel, was home on Sunday and came to see me in the afternoon. I was in Portland one day to see my brother, Ernest, at the Maine Medical Center. He was very ill but another visit by Fred, Rena, and Albert Curtis later in the week found him some better.

Lucy Bragg and Tommy, West Sumner, visited her sister, Kathy Curtis and mother, Eva Felton on Sunday.

By MARTA CLEMENTS

The SAD #17 District Competition for the OM, Odyssey of the Mind, teams was held on Monday, March 9th. We are very proud of the two teams and their coach, Mrs. Cathy Ginzinsky, who represented West Paris. Our team did not win, so will not be going on to further competitions this year, but they competed valiantly. The completed their presentations within the required time limits, were responsible for all their props and costumes, remembered their lines and comported themselves like young ladies and gentlemen. I would like to mention their names one more time. Omer to the Rescue—Jason Braden, Jonathan Haas, Tara Ginzinski, Emily Kirchner, Andrea Pratt, Cro-Magnon—Tony Bouchard, Heather Brown, Jodi Gilpatrick, Erin Small, Katie Walton, Liberty Woodworth.

On Tuesday, March 10, Carroll Minkowsky of Central Maine Power Company, visited the 5th and 6th grades, with an interesting and informative program called Safety City. In addition to facts and figures and many safety tips involving power lines and electricity, Mr. Minkowsky demonstrated the deadly power of electricity with a model city. The hour was too short but we learned a lot. Even we adults need to be reminded about the proper respect for electrical wires!

Our art teacher, Mrs. Merrill, is reporting to me about her activities. All her classes have recently been working on some kind of weaving project. Grade 3 has been weaving with felt. Grade 4 has been combining materials: burlap, yarn and felt. Grade 5 has been weaving yarn on cardboard and Grade 6 has been doing crossing weaving with sticks and yarn. Each week Mrs. Merrill posts the artist of the week. The last two to receive this honor were Amy Small, grade 6, and Jason Cohen, grade 4. Amy's project involved symmetrically designed patterns, done at random on square paper. Jason did a felt-on-felt weaving.

Mrs. Merrill also participates in our Friday afternoon activity periods. Last week the boys and girls who signed up for her activity made "stained glass" candle holders. This was done with tissue paper. Lovely and useful gifts! This week a mystery activity is planned!

Friday activities are always popular. The Benjamin Franklin Stamp Club meets once or twice per month and in addition to collecting stamps are currently circulating petitions to be forwarded to the national stamp committee. We are joining those who would like to see the Challenger astronauts honored on a stamp. Skating and sledding have been lots of fun, but we are also ready for spring activities! The gymnasium is always in use for activity periods, as are the computers. There usually is something for everyone.

One current, major project now underway is our school wide Walk-A-Thon! We received permission from the board of directors to raise money for some enrichment projects. Students K-6 will be get-

Soup labels spell e.n.c.y.c.l.o.p.e.d.i.a

The Campbell's Soup Labels for Education Program at Woodstock Elementary School has been a huge success, according to Gayle Russell, coordinator of the program.

Over 9,000 labels have been collected and processed to date. These labels are being stored over the summer to add to next academic year's collection. The school needs an additional 25,000 labels to earn three sets of encyclopedias for the new Woodstock Elementary School.

Lloyd Merrifield is in the sap woods. I haven't caught up with him yet so don't know if the sap has started running or not.

Neil Tibbets and friend Jamie Farrington took dinner Sunday, March 15, with Neil's grandmother, Esther Davis, and they also had a swim at Mollycockett motel during the day.

Esther Davis took dinner with me Monday. We are sorry to hear of Josephine Tripp's death. She was a faithful Granger and will be missed by us all. Our sympathy is extended to the family at this time.

Lectie Davis, one of our Grangers, passed away at Ledgeview this weekend. I was in to see Lizzie Russ recently. She was sitting up. She would like to see some of her friends, so let's drop in occasionally, even if you can't stay long. Madeline Jack is also at Ledgeview. She is looking fit as a fiddle and busy working on something most of the time.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Brooks, Esther Davis and I went to Woodstock Historical meeting at the historical building at Bryant Pond Saturday evening.

Woodstock book drive yields books for library

The book drive to obtain new books for the library at the new Woodstock Elementary School has reached 20 percent of its goal of $1,000 worth of books, according to W.E.S. Principal David Murphy.

Recent donations are: "The History of Woodstock," donated by Robert and Mary Billings, of Bryant Pond; "The Maine Idea," donated by Cathy Newell, of Bethel; "The Glory of Their Times," donated by Charlene Newell, of Bethel, in honor of the Bryant Pond town baseball team; "Phantom by the Sea," donated by Wendy Nutting and Peter Libby, of Greenwood; "Our National Parks," donated by Brownie Troop #708, of Woodstock; "Poochie," "The Fairies Nighttime Book," "Richard Scarry's Busy, Busy World," and "Charlie Brown's Super Book of Questions and Answers," donated by Charlene Cash, of Woodstock, in the name of Cylas and Crystal Cash; Funk & Wagnall's "Atlas," "1886 Science Yearbook" and "1885 Yearbook," by the Farrar Family, of Woodstock; "Danny, Champion of the World," donated by Billy Murphy, of Bethel.

In addition, the drive has been given an anonymous donation of $25 in memory of Claude and Lena Cushman. Anita McCarty, of Seaside, donated $15 for a book on history.

Mr. Murphy said anyone wishing to donate a new hardcover children's book is encouraged to do so. Individuals wishing to donate funds to purchase a new book should make their check out to Woodstock School, SAD #4. A committee of teachers and parents will purchase appropriate books with these funds.

Notes from the Woodstock Historical Society

We have received some information on William Ellery's "Dreamhome." Ellery was a fairly wealthy gentleman who created this estate on Lake Christopher. "Dreamhome" encompassed 125 acres. The main house across the lake was in the Italian Lake Villa style. There was a pool, tennis court, garden house, two garages, a boat house, and flower gardens. A nearby island had a cottage, and there was a log cabin in the forest. A studio had a piano, master bedroom, bath and separate laundry. Naturally there were servants' quarters. The gardens contained azaleas, leucothoe, mountain laurel, wild flowers and shrubs. The main house had Florentine lighting fixtures and Fortuny draperies. The watercraft included a 26 foot motor boat, four canoes, six Rangeley boats, and three other boats.

This information came from the Greenwood Historical Society.

Ruby Emery has given a handpainted plate, and a wooden sculpture. Robert Billings donated a rare old moustache cup.

The last meeting of the society found about 30 members present. Esther Davis presided. The program began with the reading of essays on history and poems by Maine author Edwin Arlington Robinson. A "What's It?" program followed. Members brought in items ranging from an Indian artifact to maple sugar utensils. Nearly all the members participated.

We should also note the Whitman Memorial Library is in the process of getting a very nice guide on antiques by the Knopf Company. It consists of several books. Take a look at them when you get a chance. The library is also going to order a book on the Grand Trunk Railroad which should be useful for reference, and they already have several nice history books on the Civil War and a collection of books on the presidents.

We also want to thank some of our society members for work in special areas. Ruby Emery of the Research Committee gives us much history. Ruth Cox takes care of the mystery package. Mary Billings handles refreshments, and Kathleen Bean supervises fund-raising.

Another cloudy morning with snow flakes flying through the air. I was out for a walk and still not cover the ground. I'm happy they haven't stayed. Thought we were supposed to have some sunshine today but guess we have to wait until we get a little more sun. I have not seen too much of it yet.

Russell drove me to North Bethel to see my doctor last Friday. M. doesn't want to straighten another treatment. The doctor found a different medication for the fibrosis so I won't have to have surgery. I have an allergy shot for pain. I believe me, it's not much but I cancelled an appointment because of it.

West Paris

By VIVA WHITMAN

Another cloudy morning with some snow flakes flying through the air. I don't see where so many of them come from and still not cover the ground more, but am happy they haven't stayed on the ground. Though we were supposed to get some sunshine today but guess it will have to come later if we get it. We really have not seen too much of it so far this week.

Russell drove me to North Bridgton to see my doctor last Friday. My back just doesn't want to straighten out, so had another treatment. The doctor is trying to find a different medication for me for the fibrositis so I won't have to take so much, but every time he tries something else for pain, I have an allergic reaction. Believe me, it's not much fun. Had to cancel an appointment because of it.

Saturday I tried to do a little cleaning up around the home and in the afternoon Wynona, Michael, Courtney and Karianne came to visit. Michael wanted to practice on the piano a little and borrow a book of music as this week was to be parents' week at Courtney's nursery school and Nonie was to play some music for the children. I'm always glad when she sits down at the piano and plays and sings for us. Russell and I enjoy the good old music and Nonie will play some for us as well as some children's songs for the girls.

Hilda Taylor and Misty Yates called in for a few minutes, also. Hilda was delivering some beauty products ordered for Peggy. Misty was along for the ride. Sunday was a beautiful day and I did some sewing, finishing up a blouse I had in the making. Peggy called and said it was a wonderful day in Florida. Helen Strout came in the late afternoon to have some help with her studies where I didn't expect to be here Monday night because of a Grange meeting. Try to help her whenever I can and when she can come.

Monday night was Grange meeting at Franklin Grange and I was to take sandwiches for refreshments so got the filling made up early. Did what needed doing and not much else. Made the sandwiches after supper and had thawed out a loaf of zucchini carrot bread to take along as well as some punch and water. The meeting was held in the Junior Grange Hall but next meeting, we will be upstairs in the big hall again. Hopefully, the weather will be getting warmer by then and make it nice for all who come. It will be visiting officers night and as usual, visitors are very welcome.

It was nice to see Bertha Benoit back to Grange after her illness. She is much better and gaining every day. We were also glad to have Dot and Harold Canwell with us so Dot could play the piano. Her mother is in the nursing home at South Paris and would love to have visitors and cards. She is bedridden so time hangs heavy and days are long.

Got a quick call Tuesday morning from Laura. She was on her way to Lewiston and was going to stop for a few minutes if we were going to be home. She must have gotten out the door quickly as it wasn't long before she was here. Couldn't stop long but brought a few items for us and away she went to keep her appointment in Lewiston. I had an appointment in North Bridgton at noon and a little before 11. Verna Swan of Bryant Pond called in for a minute to leave my dish that she had taken home Monday night from Grange with some sandwiches that were left. Got to my appointment and got some help for my back, my cold and temple joints which are acting out again. It probably means trying to find money for a dentist again to see if he can do

Ben Michaud, Gould Academy class of '89, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Michaud, Bethel, placed 6th in the National Junior Olympic Biathlon competition in Utah. He and Gould cross country coach Kirk Siegel flew to Finland on Tuesday, where Ben will compete in the international biathlon competition.

We have had several days of spring weather, flurries, sunshine, overcast mingled together during near freezing, near thawing temperatures.

The school children enjoyed a holiday Friday.

The Bergerons went to Temple Friday night to visit relatives, including Mike's sister Marilyn of California who was on a short vacation.

The Berniers visited the Lou Bernier family in North Waterford Sunday.

Mardie Edwards has returned to her job at Pineland. She's been on holiday since a fall damaged discs in her upper spine, neck area.

anything about my dentures to help the joints.

Wednesday I sat and typed a couple of letters to some dear friends and did some crocheting. Of course there is always housework to be done and try to keep up with all of it I can. Russell was out working on fixing up his bird houses for bluebirds and a feeder for them. He is hoping they will find one or two of the houses and will make a home in them. I hope so too. I haven't seen bluebirds for ages and would love to have some around. We still have our chickadees, woodpeckers, mourning doves and blue jays and of course our squirrels still come though not so many now. We have a little red squirrel that makes us laugh at times the way he learns around. Wish I was as lively as he is. He is cute and I love to watch him scamper around so fast.

West Paris Grange is planning to have their meeting April 2 and it will be past lecturer's night. Russell and I have both been asked to fill officers. It will depend on whether I can go help Wynona or not. She is supposed to help her husband with the opening of his new store in Portland. He is a manager there and the store is moving to a different building and will be arranged differently. He told me there will be none of this having to reach so far

Gould biathlete in Finland for 2 weeks of competition

Ben Michaud, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Michaud of Bethel, left the United States on Tuesday, March 24, for Helsinki, Finland, for two weeks of biathlon competition. He is a member of the United States Junior Biathlon team coached by Kirk Siegel, also of Bethel. Ben is a sophomore at Gould Academy, and Kirk is on the school's faculty and Nordic ski coach.

Ben qualified for the biathlon team by placing 5th in the 15 kilometer race and 6th in the 10 kilometer race held in Idaho during the past race. His performance earned him a spot on the team and a place on the USAA 1992-1994 Olympic Developmental Team.

In Finland, the team will participate in the Kaimunn Cup with a 10k and 15k race at Kajaani and a 10k race at Ykkatti and in the Polar Cup at Fodankyla for 10k team relays. The team is to return to the states from Helsinki on April 6.

Mr. Siegel will coach the skiing part of the competition and is a former member of the U.S. Biathlon Team. He has taught and coached at Gould for three years since his graduation from Dartmouth College.

Biathlon combines cross country skiing with target shooting with racers having to ski penalty laps for each missed target. A very popular sport in Europe, it is gaining popularity here in the United States.

Purity Chapter #102, OES, will be holding its stated meeting on Wednesday, April 1. Friendship Night will be observed. Potluck supper at 6:30.

up to get things, so that will be nice. Hope I get a chance to go see it.

It has been nice to see the folks who dropped in this past week, if only for a few minutes, and hope more will do the same. It always makes one feel good to have callers and breaks up the monotony of every day being nearly the same. Hope all are well and keep that way.

By MIRIAM INMAN

The West Paris Historical Society met Monday evening with 23 in attendance. A superb Irish stew was enjoyed by all and the cook, Doodle Reid, was under the weather, so unable to be present to hear all the favorable comments. It was voted to go on an inspection tour of the newly acquired society home at 6 p.m. on the next meeting Monday, April 20. The group will then return to the present society building for a potluck supper and meeting. Milton Inman provided some very enjoyable impromptu entertainment by showing some of his slides of past and present local characters. A card was signed to send to Dr. Nangle, who is at Stephens Memorial Hospital.

The Universalist Church board meeting will be held at the home of Mary Emery on Wednesday, March 25, at 7 p.m. Charles and Vicky Sanborn, North Conway, N.H., visited with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Inman, for the weekend.

Two OHHS students to visit Soviet Union

Timothy Ellis and Laurel Hottel, students at Oxford Hills High School, have been selected by a state committee as student ambassadors for the Initiative for Understanding project. They, along with students from throughout the U.S., will visit the Soviet Union this summer.

The Initiative for Understanding project resulted from the 1986 Geneva summit meeting between President Reagan and General Secretary Gorbachev, where they agreed to expand people-to-people exchanges between their two countries. Following the visit of the American "ambassadors" to the U.S.S.R., Russian students will visit America in 1988.

Laurel and Tim will be travelling for 21 days in Moscow, Leningrad, Riga, Tallin, Sochi and Baku. While there, they will explore the role of the Soviet Union in world affairs and observe the political and economic systems of that country. Between now and their departure, the students—and their parents—will take part in intensive orientation sessions to prepare them for the project.

MOLLOCKETT MIXERS

Mollockett Mixers will hold a mainstream plus square dance on Saturday, March 28, at the Rumford Junior-Senior High School, from 8-11 p.m. Joe Portelance will be calling, with Bruce Ward cueing the rounds.

CARD OF THANKS

Bill and I wish to express our thanks to all our family and friends, who helped us after Bill was taken ill. To the B.E.A.R.S., Thank you for the great care you gave him on his way to Stephens, and then for staying to take him on to St. Mary's. You were so good to both of us during this time, and later when I needed help. Thank you for being you.

To the emergency room staff at Stephens, and all the fine doctors and nurses at St. Mary's, thank you for all the wonderful care you gave Bill during his long stay there.

Thank you to all our friends and co-workers at Gould and Daka for all your support and understanding at this time. Also to family and friends for all the help taking care of Mary, and all the many rides to and from the hospital during those long 42 days. Thank you really isn't enough for all you've done for us.

And I can't forget all the gifts of food, money, and cards received from so many wonderful people. You all have been so kind.

Last, but not least to all the people who prayed so hard and long for Bill's recovery. Thank you ever so much. He's getting better and stronger everyday that goes by. And that's the way we're taking it—"One Day at a Time."

Thank you all—it's so heart warming to be living in an area where everyone cares about his neighbor.

Expanded newsletter published by Meeting House Society

The officers and trustees of the Middle Intervale Meeting House Society are pleased to announce the publication of an expanded, six-page, illustrated newsletter, which has been mailed to members within the last few days.

This newsletter, edited by the society's historian, Randall H. Bennett, contains articles on the society's history, the ongoing restoration and refurbishment of the Meeting House, and the history of the structure and its surrounding village area. The publication also contains pieces on specific events held during 1986 as fund-raising events, on the society's endowment fund campaign, and on items the society is currently looking for to add to its documentation on this historic structure. The newsletter reproduces maps of the Middle Intervale area as it appeared in both 1888 and 1889. These indicate the sites of houses, shops, barns, etc., that once stood in the Meeting House area.

The expanded newsletter is meant both to inform interested parties of the society's activities, and to encourage new memberships in this important organization.

Dedicated to the preservation of Bethel's oldest meeting house/church building, the Middle Intervale Meeting House Society was organized in 1976 and incorporated in 1979. To receive a copy of this newsletter, mailed free to current members of the society, contact either Mrs. Louise Annis, RFD #2, Box 240, Bethel, Maine 04217, or Mrs. Geraldine S. Howe, RFD #1, Box 1725, Bethel, Maine 04217 (treasurer and secretary of the society, respectively).

The Middle Intervale Meeting House Society wishes to extend its appreciation to the Bethel Historical Society, Inc., for its generous support of this updated and expanded newsletter.

Tri-Town Rescue

Tri-Town's new barn at Trap Corner in West Paris is shaping up nicely now: Region 11 is nearly done with their portion, and the plumbers and the electrician have their jobs well in hand. On Saturday, March 14, and on Sunday, March 15, the Chandlers, the Hefleys, Dorene Benson and three boys, Vance, Grace and Harry Archer, and Mary Emery spent the afternoon painting the garage area its first coat. Now is the time that we're going to need a lot of volunteer labor to finish this project, so anyone that has a few extra minutes should give Warren Emery a call, and he'll be glad to find you a job to do.

Tri-Town is very lucky to have so much community support, both moral and financial. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Landry of Bryant Pond donated an almost new washer and dryer, and Mr. and Mrs. John Maleksi of West Paris donated an almost new side-by-side refrigerator-freezer. We appreciate all this assistance.

Oxford Bank, which will soon be opening a branch in West Paris, has announced that they will be donating $1,000 to Tri-Town for each new account that is opened during their first month of operations. One of our officers will be participating in their grand opening ceremonies.

Our annual newsletters are at the printers, and will soon be ready for distribution. Again this year, we will be passing out our Life Vials to anyone who might need one. These are medicine bottles with a "Life Vial" sticker on them, and a paper in them with pertinent medical information. These go in the refrigerator and your car glove compartment, along with a sticker on the outside of that appliance to warn rescue people to look for the vial. This is especially important for those who live alone and have health problems, or medications or allergies.

The auxiliary will be meeting April 1. This meeting will be held at the new barn, and will be a working as well as planning meeting. Plans will be underway at this time for our public open house, which will be held on May 31.

Instead of a safety tip this week, I'd like to wish the EMT class, and the EMT Refresher class members good luck with their state testing this week.

Submitted by Mary Emery

ACP signup thru April 3

The Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service is currently accepting applications for Agricultural Conservation Program (ACP) practices, and will continue the signup period through April 3, 1987, according to Lester Bailey, an official of the agency. Farmers may request cost-share assistance on annual and long term agreements during this time. 4-11p

The county's agricultural conservation program is aimed at solving high priority problems such as Permanent Vegetative Cover Establishment (seedling crop-land), Stripcropping Systems, Animal Waste Facilities, Tree Planting, Forestry Improvement Work and others. Two new practices were approved for Oxford County this year, they are Field Windbreak Restoration or Establishment and Vegetative Row Barriers. Many of the practices can be cost-shared up to 75 percent, Mr. Bailey said. 4-11p

The Oxford County ASC committee considers cost-share requests after each sign-up period. The requests are reviewed carefully as to the loss of soil and/or water, and the amount that can be saved by performing the practice which has been requested. These funds will be used to correct conservation problems on a farm beyond that which would be accomplished with the farmer's own resources. 4-11p

Funds are limited this year and requests will be reviewed this spring to obtain the maximum solutions to the problems in Oxford County. 4-11p

For more information or to make application visit your county ASCS office prior to April 3. 4-11p

Newry fire dept. study committees appointed

Newry selectmen Lee Swan and Roger Hanscom met Tuesday morning, March 23, at the Telstar auditorium to study the formation of a Newry fire department.

The town of Newry has been serving the Bethel fire department for many years but with the growth of Newry it is felt that the town should consider the formation of its own department. The sum of $25,000 was appropriated at the annual town meeting for a fire department fund.

Three committees were formed, as follows:
Organization: Virgil Conkright and Bradley Wight.

Equipment and Manpower: Willard Wight, Alan Plett, Tom Swain, and Burton Mills.

Land and Building: Don Sandstrom, William Cramlin, John Gauthier, and Marshall Fleet.

Iver Carlson from NOVA met with the selectmen to discuss renewing the lease part of the municipal building for the NOVA forestry program. Under the present one year lease which expires on June 30, NOVA pays for the heat and electricity for the entire building plus $150 per month. A new two year lease was discussed with Mr. Carlson with NOVA continuing to pay for the lights and heat, and a payment of the same rate for fiscal year 1988 with a possible increase in rental for fiscal year 1989. Mr. Carlson is to discuss this with the NOVA board of directors at its next meeting in two weeks and report back to the selectmen.

Marsh Moxey, at Newry, has been named to the dean's list at Bowdoin College for the fall semester. She is a freshman.

Newry assessors start revaluation of property

Newry's board of assessors will meet at the Town Office Wednesday, April 1, from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m., for the purpose of receiving lists of taxable property, both real and personal.

The assessors have started work on revaluing taxable property in town, to bring local valuations more in line with selling prices, as is required by law. They met March 18 and placed the following valuations on property: lots in subdivisions $25,000 for the first acre, plus $1,000 per acre for each additional acre. This may seem high, but it compares favorably with present day selling prices for these lots. One fourth acre lots in Coombs and Viking Villages were set at $6,000.

House lots not in subdivisions $9,000 for the first acre, plus $300 for each additional acre. Wild land was set at $200 per acre. Camp lots, on non-maintained roads $1,000. Commercial land $300 per acre. Ski Area building lots $25,000 per acre. Condominium values were adjusted to compare with selling prices. A large increase in valuation will be realized because of the revaluations and new construction since last April 1. This should result in a substantial decrease in the tax rate, even with the large increase in the tax commitment over 1986.

Comparison figures for the two years are: Jan. 1986, local assessment (raised at Town Meeting) $112,248.44; MSAD assessment $17,019.25; county tax $10,414.57; overlay $11,646.48, total $230,342 less other revenue of $34,088.97 leaving $196,253.03 to be raised by taxpayers. For 1987 the figures are: local assessment $164,029.44; MSAD 44 assessment (if the budget presented is approved) $194,221; county tax and overlay estimated $27,000 for a total of $385,450.44 less other revenue of $37,731.75 leaving $347,718.69 to be raised, an increase of $101,477.66. Because of the lower tax rate, most taxpayers should not see any appreciable increase in their taxes over 1986.

The executive committee of the board of directors met Monday, March 23, at 4 p.m. at the chamber office.

The committee looked into booking another circus this year. It was learned, with great disappointment, that Robert's Circus and Old Time American Circus will not be coming to Maine this year.

Executive Director Robin Zinchuk learned that the circus organizers dislike coming to Maine because the state requires a $10,000 bond for circuses traveling around the state.

Mr. Zinchuk has been meeting with the STL Liaison Committee and it has been decided the welcome table will be set up again this year at registration. We will need volunteers to attend to any inquiries, between noon and 4:30 p.m. If you would like to do this, please contact the executive director.

Members and non-members of the chamber are encouraged to give us any information on their establishment that they would like displayed at the welcome table.

Henry MacMann reminds those needing assistance on their tax returns that this is the last week his free assistance will be available.

It has come with great disappointment that the extension cards used for the pin lights on the Common have gone astray — whether or not with assistance. We would like to make a plea that they be returned with no questions asked. We would like to be able to continue next year to decorate the Common for the winter season.

Anyone who has any ideas and suggestions that they would like to share with the chamber should contact the office or any of the directors. We would be glad to hear new ideas.
